

Legacy Runner Rosie Rieger

Best of luck to all of you ~ enjoy the new course!

I am 62 yrs. old and so happy to be walking (much less preparing for the 25th LA Marathon). Working in a hospital setting is a daily reminder of such things. I am somewhat of a dreamer and I view the LA Marathon as "my Olympic" event.

The years have brought numerous personal stories: My Ah-Ha moment...

Without the VOLUNTEERS I would never finish the race. I thank them throughout the entire route.

Best advice?...

I was given excellent running advice at my 1st LA Marathon - - be sure not to hit the wall. I thought - - what wall? Wouldn't I notice it and "go around the wall?" I had no clue!

My proudest moment...

Finishing the 10th LA Marathon, along side my husband and oldest brother – we coordinated crossing the finish line together despite the torrential rain. Mr. Burke, the organizer at the time, had arranged for the 10 year legacy runners to be photographed in front of the Coliseum.

About that Wall! I hit it a few times ~

Thank you~

Lou Briones (and Denny S.) for keeping the Legacies organized all these years!
